I recently had to put in some new 4x4's for a new fence and rather than dull my chain saw blade, I used these blades to cut the tree roots that were in the way. I loaded the blade in my battery Milwaukee sawzall and it did a great job. This is a lot better process than dulling a chain saw blade. These Milwaukee blades are definitely my go to ...

I bought the saw (only), blades, battery, and charger at different places, kit was not cost effective. Pros: Light weight, well balanced. Minimal vibration. For a recip saw, very easy to use, especially one handed. Very robust, strong little saw for it's size. The trigger controlled speed worked well, was easily able to start cuts, and tailor tricky, non linear cuts. I got a 400 ...
