When a homeowner leases a solar panel system from a TPO or goes through a PPA, the owner of that solar panel system files a UCC-1 financing statement to show that they are the true owners of the property that is the system. This makes it so other debtors cannot claim the property in case of a breach of contract or default on their payments.

A Solar Power Purchase Agreement (SPPA) is a financial arrangement in which a third-party developer owns, operates, and maintains the photovoltaic system, and a host customer agrees to site the system on its roof or elsewhere on its property and purchases the system's electric output from the solar services provider for a predetermined period.

This involves evaluating the property's sun exposure, roof condition, and potential obstacles that might affect solar panel placement. The results inform the design of an efficient and tailored solar power system. 3. Review and Sign the Agreement. Following the site assessment, the solar provider presents the Solar PPA agreement. It is ...

o Solar panels that produce electricity are known as solar photovoltaic (PV) modules. These panels generate electricity when exposed to light.
